

Evidence-Based Nursing

Contents

Purpose and procedure	2	Integration of services for elderly people reduced costs and use of health services	20
EBN notebook		Nurse led secondary prevention clinics improved health and decreased hospital admissions in patients with coronary heart disease	21
Identifying the best research design to fit the question. Part I: quantitative designs	4	Causation
Implementation forum		Regular exercise during pregnancy did not affect physical growth or mental development of infants	22
Implementing evidence-based leg ulcer management ..	6	Stable term infants with acidaemia had no major adverse outcomes within 48 hours of birth	23
Treatment		Infant readmission was related to early discharge, young gestational age, and breast feeding	24
Early labour assessment improved several intrapartum outcomes	9	Parenting style was associated with hyperactivity in school aged boys	25
Venipuncture was less painful and more efficient than heel lance for blood testing in newborns	10	Low caloric intake predicted mortality for geriatric patients in hospital	26
Review: some behavioural interventions, drugs, and dietary changes reduce infantile colic	11	Qualitative
Daily zinc supplements reduced the incidence and severity of acute lower respiratory infections in children in India	12	Older adolescents discussed sexual behaviour with partners after trust had been built	27
Zinc gluconate lozenges were not effective for treating the common cold in children and adolescents	13	Therapeutic communities helped people to recover from substance abuse and implement "new lives"	28
Sexually risky behaviour in adolescents was reduced by a safer sex, condom based intervention	14	In patients with symptomatic HIV disease, spirituality emerged from stigmatisation and having an incurable disease	29
Skills training reduced sexual risk behaviours in homeless men with mental illness	15	Perceptions, relationships, societal contexts, and previous decisions influenced women's decisions about hormone replacement therapy	30
Early discharge after surgery for breast cancer was safe and well received by patients	16	Breast restoration decision making followed 2 predominant patterns and did not involve active information seeking behaviour	31
Obese binge eating women had no weight loss with diet or non-diet therapies	17	Review: research on chronic illness has shifted towards viewing the individual as empowered and a partner in the health management process	32
Review: dietary advice leads to a modest reduction in blood cholesterol concentration	18	Glossary	Inside back cover
Review: dynamic exercise increases aerobic capacity and muscle strength in rheumatoid arthritis	19		